

with America, President Eisenhower says they provide a lesson to all men, giving them a new dependence for this commonwealth. But Eisenhower did not see them. "We are happy that Puerto Rico is a proud, free, self governing commonwealth, joined to the United States by the ties of affection," the President said. "Puerto Rico is truly unique."

He is now struggling to realize their aspirations and ambitions, the President said. "I have demonstrated that courage, persistence and faith in one's fellow men and a God-given destiny can open up ways through adversity and through difficulties that might appear to be insurmountable."

In naming the President Gov. Luis Munoz Marin—who likes Puerto Rico's present status as a commonwealth of the United States—said, "You will find among us differences of opinion as to the form of government which the United States should develop. But so far as the great majority of our people are concerned, you will find no differences of opinion as to the fact that union should be maintained."

After the exchange of greetings, the President and Munoz Marin went into Conference briefly at the airport. They were accompanied by their banners. They were

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (UPI)—Sen. Strom Thurmond insisted today that President Eisenhower discuss the main issues in his defense report to the nation and said they would push ahead with missile investigations.

The senator, in a radio-TV speech last night on his South American trip, declared that "the United States has developed 'indestructible, incalculable' military power since the war, and is constantly developing to meet the needs of the future."

But Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D., Wash., a leading critic of the Johnson said the speech was "misleading" more for what the President failed to say than anything he said to the people. Eisenhower failed to say anything about Russian missile progress, he added.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas, served notice that the preparedness and space committees, which he heads, will go ahead with hearings on competitive U. S.-Soviet missile strength.

Johnson said he agreed with Eisenhower that the United States

Chairman Overton Brooks, D., La., of the house space committee, said he was disappointed that the President did not mention U.S. defense against intercontinental ballistic missiles or compare U.S.-Soviet missile strength.

Eisenhower, ex-Republican speaker of the Senate, said Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, Illinois, said the chief executive had "laid the whole case in a nutshell." He said the speech was "good so far as it dispels the confusion" over the defense program.

MAN AND MYTH

As each passing year takes us further away from the American George Washington, it would appear to be increasingly harder to form a picture of the man as he actually was. He would seem to each succeeding generation more and more like a "decoration" than a real man.

Hopefully, that is not the case. In fact, we have a more accurate estimation of Washington today than was held by 19th century historians, who were close to him in time. While they are important, it is not entirely to newly discovered papers written by Washington or his contemporaries or to hitherto unknown facts coming to light. Rather, it is due to the spirit motivating the students of American history, who are now more concerned with the man than with the myth. They are more concerned with the man than with the myth. They are more concerned with the man than with the myth.

The early writers, probably unconsciously, were looking for a symbol. The nation was still young and had no long line of illustrious heroes. Washington was the obvious choice since he nearly all he personified the virtues of the American character. He was not a wrong. Adversity criticism was ignored and the real man was buried beneath volumes of eulogium.

This does not mean that modern writers are merely on a new wave of Washington feet of clay. On the contrary, the more we accept his human foibles and his fallings, the more respect we have for his accomplishments. Surely it is not for a demigod to be a hero. There is no credit to Washington in maintaining he was infallible, at the expense of deprecating the work of congress and innumerable other fine men.

We can truly reverse George Washington now on the anniversary of his birth, not as a man who was fallible, but as a man who rose above the ordinary to help write one of the most significant and inspiring pages in the history of the world.

SINKING SPELL

Organized labor, after 25 years of growth, has been shrinking lately, the bureau of labor statistics reports. The drop amounted to 100,000 members from 1955 to 1959, and 180,000 of these were in the white-collar category.

The BLS didn't offer any reason for the drop, and the obvious ones don't seem to hold water. The decline in membership revelations couldn't have had much to do with it because Teamster membership grew despite the sordid record. Recession might be suspected, but other recessions produced membership gains.

It could be that labor organizations, which like to deem themselves "progressive," have fallen behind the times.

Today's employee, a well-educated home-owner, more often than not is repelled at the prospect of enmeshment in violent and wasteful strikes, or even of enmeshment in a raucous picket line. He may find laughable the old warmed-over "class struggle" slogan.

He is unlikely to be fooled by union demands for "human dignity" for members, when so many union team members not as associates but as captives of the unions they support with their votes.

He is apt to be resentful of union partisan politics, which in some instances goes so far as to force member campaign contributions, and in others to deny members the right to vote in the election of their representatives. He may find the union position inconsistent that government spend even more, and thus tax away more of what the members need for their families.

Even as class employment increases, resistance to being "organized," Dr. George Odorne, director of the University of Michigan bureau of industrial relations, reports the unions are losing other support. Their "old friends, the eggheads," are cooling to the solidarity idea, he says. The reason seems to be that the intellectuals are awakening to the fact that unskilled and semi-skilled unionists are able to force out the eggheads in the election of representatives to the contributions they make to it.

HE EARNED IT

Not long ago a news picture made the rounds showing the ex-dictator of Argentina, Juan Peron, as he appeared today in Spain. It offered a sharp comment on the wages of the fallen dictator.

Now 64, Peron seemed to have few gray hairs. But his muscles sagged badly, and his eyes told of the emptiness of defeat and a barren future.

Obviously well fixed financially, he nevertheless is committed to wandering wherever he can find refuge. He has had several temporary homes in the western hemisphere, and no one can tell where he may go next.

In the first years after his toppling in 1955, it was often feared he might try a comeback, banking on the idea that he or his support in Argentina. That prospect now seems increasingly remote.

This man who at the height of his power set rigid rules as to how his people could live, is now content to exist in the wilderness where he can do no more than watch others live.

He is a disconsolate spectator at a parade he once headed. It is a punishment he richly earned.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL HIRLGG

WASHINGTON—Warning signals of a possible breakdown in the months have been issued by the conservative Eisenhower faction and the economic expansionists among the Democrats and Republicans.

They are deeply concerned over the disturbing prospects Vice President Nixon faces in the 1960 election.

In fact, the 1960 trend may furnish a fairly clear-cut test between the "right money" and "budget balancing" programs to stabilize the economy. The Eisenhower school on and off Capitol Hill. It may prove which had the more correct diagnosis of the present economic situation and a better-butting question.

More importantly, it may show whether the Washington and Wall Street experts have finally found a formula for preventing or ameliorating up and down, boom and bust, alternating cycles of recession and inflation. Both are equally dangerous.

The politicians have been in the outcome of the 1960 election. For a decline in the second half of the year, even if it is only slight, would weaken the Republican "prosperity" plan. It would enable the opposition expansionists to try "I told you so."

ATTRIBUTED RECOVERY TO CAUTIOUS POLITICS

President Eisenhower and his advisers at Treasury and State have been cautious in their handling of the 1959-60 recession to their cautious policies. They have fought inflation by cutting expenditures, but they have not been too eager to borrow, and by planning a budget surplus. They have opposed tax reduction. Western Tar Sands Urged As New Fuel

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (UPI)—Congress has been asked to prepare the way for extracting oil from tar sands in the Western Mountain area.

There will come a time when the petroleum in these sands will be needed, Warwick M. Downing, Denver, chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact commission's mobile lands committee, told the house interior subcommittee on mines and mining.

New Steps Urged

He urged steps be taken to develop practical methods of producing petroleum from the tar sands.

An adequate supply of petroleum is of the utmost importance in time of war and even more important in time of peace because we keep America and our oil industry going we will prevent aggression against us in a statement submitted to the committee.

As our supply of petroleum may become less and less and the demand for increasing greatly, it seems absolutely necessary that we increase our recoverable supply either through oil shale or tar petroleum sands or coal.

Cost Still Low

There are capable engineering reports which say that the petroleum can be obtained from these sands at a cost substantially below the cost of petroleum produced by the usual methods.

Downing said this has been a decided advantage over oil shale in that the cost of producing it is not as high as the cost of producing oil shale. The cost of producing oil shale is about $1.50 a barrel, while the cost of producing oil from tar sands is about $1.00 a barrel.

Burley Meet

Attended by Lion Leaders

BURLEY, Feb. 22—In observance of International Councilor month for Lions International, the local club invited all councilors to meet to be guests at the Friday luncheon at Coast Grill.

There of the seven councilors attended. These officers come from the ranks and all must be district governors before becoming councilors. The officers are: President, Russell Jensen, club director, who spoke briefly; Vice President, J. W. Jensen, president of the local club; Secretary, J. W. Jensen, president of the local club; Treasurer, J. W. Jensen, president of the local club; and five other officers.

Those attending were Les Morgan, Burley; Richard Serpa, and Robert Hinkley, both Twin Falls. All of these men have been a member of the Burley club at one time.

Unable to attend were H. K. Belmont, Hazelton; Faren Faler and Jay Merrill, both Twin Falls; and Jack Russell, Jerome.

The club is trying to get a monthly bulletin started and will hold a contest to find an appropriate name. All members are to bring a suggested name to next meeting.

President Nelson reported 60 per cent of the membership took an active part in the door-to-door sales of products of "Live, Inc." and $1,050 was collected.

Director of this Lions "club project," E. M. Jellison, Twin Falls, was guest chairman of the local project.

Kentucky Faces Bonus Payments

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 22 (UPI)—Kentucky's state government today faced problems of paying a quarter of a billion dollars in bonuses to its veterans of four wars, one of the major headaches being the determination of a Kentucky veteran.

The bonus law, endorsed at the polls last November, passed by the general assembly last week and signed by Gov. Bert T. Combs, provides payments for veterans, or their surviving widows, parents or children of the Spanish-American war, both world wars and the Korean conflict.

Payments run $15 a month for foreign service, up to $500, or $9 a month for state service, up to $200.

The Kentucky veteran must have entered the service from Kentucky, been a resident of the state last Nov. 3, and must live here when the payment is made.

It Is Fairly Certain Congress To Vote Minimum Wage Hike

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (UPI)—It seems a fairly sure bet now that congress will vote an election year boost, in the dollar-an-hour federal minimum wage.

The main question is how much. The proposals in congress range up to $1.25. That level would mean a pay raise to over 3 1/2 million workers.

The Eisenhower administration has withdrawn earlier objections that an increase would be inflationary. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said last May an increase would cause widespread unemployment in low-wage industries.

Mitchell has just advised congress, however, that a new study shows a modest increase is feasible and could be absorbed without resulting in more unemployment.

There of the seven councilors attended. These officers come from the ranks and all must be district governors before becoming councilors. The officers are: President, Russell Jensen, club director, who spoke briefly; Vice President, J. W. Jensen, president of the local club; Secretary, J. W. Half Million Stage Rally For Trujillo

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic, Feb. 22 (UPI)—Half a million persons, demagogued by the leader to persuade Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo to take over the presidency from his brother, Hector, gathered here today.

Official spokesmen said the rally was the largest ever held in the Dominican Republic. About 200,000 peasants flocked to the capital from throughout the country to take part in the demonstration.

These sources said that because of fighting opposition to his regime, the generalissimo no longer believes he can stay in the country while his brother, Hector, remains a figurehead president.

The rally sources said Trujillo now needs the presidency to bolster his popularity and prestige with the peasantry, traditionally the backbone of his power.

Ike to Find Chile's Inflation Checked, Its Money Steadied

SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 22 (UPI)—Here in Santiago, at plane passes overhead broadcasted the huge crowds of people normally seen in the streets of the capital.

The broadcaster comes on to give some "official" prices for comparison. This is technically an unofficial message, but President Jose Alessandri's government is trying to prevent price controls in the country where the cost of living rose 30 per cent last year.

This and much more make Chile one of the most interesting stops on President Eisenhower's route in South America this month.

By The Associated Press
Sen. Robert M. Humphrey, D-Wis., continued a stop-over campaign today, addressing domestic issues. His chief Democratic rival, Sen. Joseph P. Kamp, D-Wis., was in the city on a foreign policy as the dominant issue of 1960.

The rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy, D-Mass., was in the city on a foreign policy as the dominant issue of 1960. The Kennedy administration has a "major" credit balance of good will.

Humphrey and Kennedy have entered the April 5 presidential primary in Wisconsin. The state has 13 votes at the Democratic national convention in Los Angeles.

Sen. Humphrey, who concluded his four-day tour of Wisconsin today, closed his "bill" rights tour in 1960. He told a Milwaukee news conference Saturday the nation needs more security, more government, and more federal aid to education.

As President Eisenhower prepared to leave on a tour of Latin America, Kennedy had to say of the last good will mission.

"The paradox through the streets of Karachi, New Delhi and Kabul are not substitute for the United States," Kennedy said. "The United States cannot, when one attempts to look behind the flag waving, the bands, the marching elephants and attempts to find a policy that can affect events with respect to these countries."

Civil Rights Discussed
Kennedy also told a television audience that his support of civil rights would not hurt his presidential chances in the South.

The effect of civil rights on another candidate also was discussed on television this week-end. Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla., said the chances of Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, D-Texas, had been helped by his drive for civil rights legislation. Johnson is an opponent but has announced change.

"Oh, he has lost some southern support," Smathers said. "But the final analysis I don't know, I think most southerners will finally conclude that after all, Johnson is himself sort of a southerner."

Another unnamed candidate, Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., repeated his charge that the administration has misled the public on American defense. The charge had been characterized as defensible by President Eisenhower last week.

Cubans Seize Properties of Rich Italian

HAVANA, Feb. 22 (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro's revolutionary government announced today it has seized all the property owned by Italian multi-millionaire Roberto Barletta and his family.

The action was taken by the ministry for the recovery of stolen property, which charged Barletta "outraged" himself and his family "profited unjustly" from his relationship with Castro's ex-President Fulgencio Batista and members of his administration.

The 60-year-old millionaire was taken to army intelligence headquarters last night and held there until midnight before being told the official reason for his arrest. Barletta was released on the strength of assurances that the Italian embassy said he would not leave the country.

It was not certain whether any formal charges would be filed against the Italian, who has been in business here for more than 20 years.

Barletta has heart trouble, and his doctor hastened to intelligence headquarters as soon as he heard his patient had been picked up. He checked Barletta's blood pressure and gave him tranquillisers.

Prop-Driven Sled Kills 3; Laws Hinted

BLACKFOOT, Feb. 22 (UPI)—Officials believe an accident that killed two boys and a man last week-end may result in laws regulating the construction of propeller-driven sleds.

A mooring holding the motor of one such "snow plane" broke Saturday, hurling the motor and spinning propeller into the sled's open cockpit.

The propeller killed Leonard Bradley, 22, a well-digger from nearby Riverside who built the snow plane in his own yard.

Other families of both families, who had taken turns riding the snow plane, witnessed the accident. Officers who investigated the tragedy said Findley had tested the sled extensively before the accident. They said it happened on level, snow-covered terrain not likely to present any undue stress to the sled's structure.

Joint funeral services for the three victims are scheduled for Wednesday in Blackfoot.

6 Drivers Fined In Traffic Cases

BOZEMAN, Feb. 22 (UPI)—Six drivers were fined in Jerome courts for violations of the motor vehicle laws.

Richard Moseley, Jerome, was fined $25 for improper parking. Robert R. Sosa, 20, Twin Falls, was fined $25 for driving on a suspended license.

Lee O. Catbahl, 63, Payette, was fined $25 and costs by Judge Trevill for failure to register annually. Emil Klimes, 27, Jerome, was fined $25 for driving on a suspended license.

James J. Trevill also fined $25. Matthews, Mountain Home, was fined $25 for failure to license a utility trailer.

Lopez rates Cleveland, the team to beat although he readily conceded the Yankees have a lot of material and should command a great deal of respect.

The Chicago White Sox finished above .500 the last seasons.

Reprieve for Chessman Is Due Debates

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22 (UPI)—Members of the California legislature indicated today that convicted author Caryl Chessman will face heavy odds in his efforts to escape the gas chamber for the ninth time.

The 35-year-old robber-rapist was granted a reprieve by Gov. Edmund G. Brown early Friday, just 10 hours before Chessman's eighth scheduled execution at San Quentin prison.

Brown said he granted the 60-day reprieve to allow the people of California—through the legislature—to decide whether capital punishment should be abolished.

Centroversies Sparked
The governor said his action was partly motivated by a U. S. state department message concerning the possible effect of Chessman's execution on President Eisenhower's goodwill trip to South America.

Both reasons touched off immediate controversy.
The legislature has defeated eight bills to ban the death penalty in the past 27 years—the latest in 1959.

A survey conducted by United Press International during the week-end showed that the legislature again would vote down any attempt to abolish capital punishment. A majority of the members also was overwhelmingly against clemency for Chessman.

Survey Results Yield
The UPI survey, with 85 per cent of the state's 118 legislators contacted, showed:
Abolishing capital punishment: Senate 40 members—21 against, nine for and seven no stand. Assembly 68 members and two vacancies—37 against, 29 for and seven no stand.

Clemency for Chessman: Senate 20 against, six for and 11 no stand. Assembly—45 against, 10 for and eight no stand.
Brown's move also brought a threat of his impeachment and started an investigation into how the state department became involved in the case.

Boy, 8, Dies in Rescue Attempt
OAKLAND, Calif., Feb. 22 (UPI)—Ronnie Bumgarner, 8, tried to rescue his partially paralyzed mother from their burning house yesterday but both died in the flames.

Ronnie and his sister Darlene, 10, awakened by the fire, rushed to a window. Then the boy turned back.

"I'm going back to get mommie," he said.
Firemen found his body three feet from that of his mother, Juanita, 38. Darlene escaped. Ronnie Bumgarner, 40, father and husband, was not at home.

Bermuda actually consists of more than 100 islands with a total land area of 22 square miles.

Bomber Wreckage Shown

A Florida-based Piper Comanche exploded in flight during an apparent attempt to bomb a Cuban sugar mill 100 miles east of Havana. The two occupants, one identified as Robert E. Frost, Eugene Ore., were killed. Prime Minister Fidel Castro denounced incursions over Cuban-based territory by U. S.-based planes and the U. S. government offered official apology. English Are Mourning at Royal Death

LONDON, Feb. 22 (UPI)—The royal family's rejection over Queen Elizabeth's new son was dimmed over the week-end by the death of Countess Mountbatten, Prince Philip's aunt and one of Britain's best known women.

The 58-year-old countess—wife of Britain's defense chief, Admiral Mountbatten—died in her sleep Saturday night at Jexellon, North Berne, where she was on a tour of Far Eastern units of the 8th John ambulance brigade, which she headed.

The cause of death was not announced.
Queen Elizabeth ordered the royal family into a week of mourning, canceling their social engagements and putting the members of the family and their personal affairs into black.

Prince Philip is the son of Earl Mountbatten's sister, Princess Andrew, Greece, and the Mountbattens raised the prince from boyhood after his father died and his mother entered a convent.
Earl and Lady Mountbatten were such close friends of the royal family that some political enemies have complained they exercised undue influence on the queen.

Both the queen and her husband were reported deeply upset by the death, but both the queen and her baby son were reported "very well."

Jerome Youth Is Home for Leave

JEROME, Feb. 22—Lawrence D. Boguski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Boguski, Jerome, is home on a 14-day leave from the U. S. Navy after completing nine weeks of recruit training at San Diego.

He will report to Treasure Island, near San Francisco, for 20 weeks of radar electronics school upon completion of his leave. He is a former Jerome and Shoshone high school student. He returned to Jerome Sunday with his parents who attended his graduation exercises from the U. S. Navy training center, San Diego.

Burley PTA Carnival Set For March 4

BURLEY, Feb. 22—The South-west PTA will hold its carnival at the junior high school gymnasium on Friday, March 4. It was announced at the meeting Thursday evening.

Mrs. John Allen, Mrs. Hermon King and Mrs. R. O. Hamon, members of the Burley public library board addressed the group.

Mrs. Allen gave statistics pertaining to the building stating that there were 4,000 square feet of space not including storage space in the basement. The building cost approximately $60,000.

Mrs. King explained that the birch checkout desk had been a donation of the Lions club and had been made by Kent Lions. Some new tables in memory of the early planners are scheduled to arrive soon.

The library recently received a scenic oil painting of artist Olaf Moller, Paul. The Paints club at Burley high school made the first payment on the Wood River painting, she said.

Mrs. King told about the new depreciable book truck, newspaper table and four new card study desks. The vertical file of pictures will be completed—in the near future. These pictures will be frangible and may be checked out in the same manner as books, she added.

Mrs. Rambo reviewed briefly some of the newer books at the library. She showed some of the children's books and brought special attention to some that would be of special interest to the PTA and parents such as "The Twig Is Bent." She told of a biographical book of Richard Nixon.
